SEABRIGHT'S EASY VICTORY.

Tioga, at 10 to I, a Surprise in the Opening Dash.

BRIGHTON BRACH RACE TRACK, Aug. 22 .-A very large crowd journeyed down to the track by the sea to witness the good card given by the Brighton Beach Association. The weather was pleasant and the track in magnificent condition. The fields originally were very large. The first three races contained the limit, thirteen entries, but numerous scratches reduced the fields to a

The feature of the programme was the mile race, in which Cynosure, King Crab, India Rubber, John Cavanagh, Foxford and Milt Young were named as starters, Jack Rise being the only one to refuse the issue. The seven-furiong race also contained a good neld. Fidelio, Kirkover, Harlem, Jack Rose, Mary Stone and Key West going to the post. A bad lot came to the post in the opening race, of which Centaur was made favorite. Queen of Trumps second enoice. SAYS SHE'S HIS WIFE.

Miss Turner Claim: Russell S. Wormser as Her Husband,

He Deserted Her, She Says, and She Wants a Divorce.

Sensational Story Told by Counse. in Supreme Court Chambers.

Judge Patterson in Supreme Court, Chambers, and a large audience of lawyers were treated to a remantic and sensational story to-day in which Russell S. Wormser, the son of the banker by that came, and his common law wife figured as principals.

Lawyer Charles Brooks moved for counsel five events, including two stakes. Weather fees and alimony in an action for divorce fine, large attendance. The track is fast and brought by the woman who represented her-

Lawyer Brooks started off by saying that Mr. Wormser met & Miss Olive K. Turner on March 15, 1889, and suggested that they live together as man and wife. Miss Turner was much in love with young Wormser, Mr. Brooks said, and wanted him to have the vows selemnized by a minis-

Wormser, it was said, told Miss Turner that it was unnecessary; that if he acknowledged her as his wife and introduced knowledged her as his wire and introduced her as such to his friends, the vows would be as binding as if a minister had been called in.

Believing him, she consented. He then told her, according to Lawyer Brooks, that if his lather found out that he was married it would enrage him and spoil his prospects in life.

would enrage him and spoil his prospects in life.

He then suggested that they live under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Russell. Under this name they lived in a flat on Park avenue, and the neighbors and merchants with whom the couple did business thought them to be man and wife.

After living together for some time Mrs. Russell pleaded with her husband to have their marriage solemnized by a minister or rabbi. Young Wormser's reply was:

"You are my wife, Olive, and the tie could not be made tighter if we went to fifty ministers."

Concord's Early Frost. CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 22.—The first frost of the season prevailed in this vicinity this morning.

the scene of the richest turf event of the season next Saturday, and as the time for the running of the $75,000 Futurity draws near, turimen have made it their chief topic of discussion. It is true that, as a lot, the two year-olds shown this season do not begin to compare with the magnificent array of thoroughbreds that went to the post to buttle for the same event last year, in which His Highness, that truly game son of Ill-Used-Princess, shouldered his crushing impost and led the procession under the wire, but the interest will be none the less. Trainers who have candidates for the magnificent stakes are at hurry and bustle, and are working with their pets as they never did before, casa hoping to fare his charge ready to fight as best CAPE Town, Aug. 22 .- The British steams a thoroughbred can for the princely purse The crack of the Ehret string, Don Alonzo, is not chtered, but Lidgerwood is receiving senter. Among the probable starters, the two that attract the most attention are Lady Violet, the pretty daughter of Ill-Used-Lady Four bodies have already been washed liosebery, in whom Jack Joyner has pinned his faith, and that slashing son of Kolus Certse, Morello. The former has shown herself to be far the best filly of the year, and is pounds, and as Marcus Daly has given the Garrison as her pilot in this event, she will in the Junior Champion Stake by Don He Has Promised to Help Identify Joyner says she was not quite up giving his great colt all the care possible, and the life of the notorious Bud Lindsay, a has ridden the big son of Eclus in nearly all leader of the attacking miners here, was his recent races a d is enthusiastic over the spared by his intending lynchers last night colt's chances. He makes no bones about and point out every man in the mountains and truer piece of horseflesh, and as Fitz has It is reported here that Miss Borden has His life was spared on this condition. Morelio was brought back to Coal Creek and will be gets in with 115 pounds, and the "Daredevil" will have to reduce some between now and combination, and if it comes down to a night

> WORLD picks him as the winner. The other probable starters and jockers are: Lovelace, Bergen; Tar and Tartar, Sims; Hammie, Lambley; Sir Waiter, Clayton; the kisino colt, Sloane; Spartan, Taral; Comanche, Surphy; the Belladonna colt, Hamiton; Frieze, Littleneld; Waitace, Boggett. The West will in all probability be represented by either nejection or G. W. Johnson-may be both. The former is a very highly tries filly by Longellow-Hinght, and was bred by Major B. G. Thomas, G. W. Johnson is a full brother to Huron, who ran second to His Highness in list years Futurity, and is conceded to be the Western crackajack. Hejection is said to have shown three-quarters in 1.15 easily believe leaving home, and it this be so she will make some-body's horse race to beat her. Albert Cooper is very much stuck on the chances of the Belladonna colt, and is giving him special care. Lowiace and Sir Waiter are the best of these, but both have had too much of it. Sims; Hammie, Lambley; Sir Waiter, Clay-
